Orlando Sanford Celebrates Grand Opening Of New Retail Space Airport Concessionaires Aldeasa US, Inc. and Hudson Group Invest Nearly $5M

Sanford, FL, May 21, 2009 – TBI Airport Management, Inc. and the Sanford Airport Authority celebrates the grand opening of nearly 14,000 square feet of retail space at Orlando Sanford International Airport (SFB) today. Longtime SFB concessionaire Aldeasa US, Inc. recently expanded its Alpha Duty and Tax Free store by 2,880 square feet with an investment of approximately $1M. While Hudson Group, new to SFB, completed construction of 11,000 square feet of specialty retail space with an investment of $3.7M.

The Alpha Duty and Tax Free store is located in the international departure area of Terminal A. Hudson's new shops include Hudson News, Discover Orlando Sanford, Indulgences and KidsWorks located in Terminal A. Hudson also offers Euro Cafe, Gallerie and two Hudson News locations in the Airport's Terminal B.

“Our Alpha Duty and Tax Free store expansion is the latest example of our continuing investment for the future in our operations at Orlando Sanford International Airport,” said Rod Wiltshire, President, Aldeasa US, Inc.

“I’ve always been impressed with Orlando Sanford's unique model,” said Joseph DiDomizio, president and CEO, Hudson Group. “The blend of local government and private investment creates a very customer-focused operation that fits perfectly with Hudson’s own approach. Our entire operation is dedicated to listening to our customers and providing them with what they want and need – in terms of operating hours, store maintenance, merchandise mix and, most important, friendly service.”

Airport President Larry Dale said, “The $4.7 million expansion program is a significant enhancement to current terminal operations, affording a heightened and more diverse level of retail opportunity for passengers as the Airport continues to grow.”

“These exciting new shops by Hudson and Aldeasa are symbolic of the long-term relationship we intend to cultivate with these two companies. We appreciate Hudson and Aldeasa’s commitment and confidence in us and our airline customers during these challenging times as demonstrated by the significant investments both have made here,” said Larry Gouldthorpe, President of TBI Airport Management, Inc.
